

The Get-Together Bitcoin Bingo

Keep this card handy through the whole gathering. Check a square when someone says or does what it describes, at dinner, over drinks, during dessert, or while everyone is deciding when to leave. Don't announce what you're doing. The center square is free, you already know how this goes. Five in a row wins.

Explains Bitcoin vs "crypto" to someone who didn't ask	Brings up the 2008 financial crisis	Casually mentions their node	Says "number go up" and means it	Starts explaining why proof of work matters
Offers to pay someone back in sats	Compares fiat to a melting ice cube	Does Bitcoin math on a napkin	Works Lightning into an unrelated chat	Knows when the next halving is, without looking
Says "stay humble, stack sats"	Corrects someone for calling Bitcoin "crypto"	FREE Someone says, "I wasn't going to talk about Bitcoin today."	Produces a hardware wallet from somewhere	Says "it's not about the price," then checks the price
Somehow brings up El Salvador	Explains the 21 million cap. Again.	Brings up Michael Saylor	Checks the mempool while everyone eats	Someone asks how much Bitcoin they own
Brings up self-custody when nobody mentioned it	Says "don't trust, verify"	A "not interested" relative says, "maybe I should get some bitcoin"	Says "not your keys, not your coins"	Explains how they stack

Five in a row. Then go home, before someone asks what a UTXO is.

Spot the Bitcoiner Bingo

Less about what Bitcoin is, more about what gives a Bitcoiner away. Keep the card handy through the gathering and check a square the moment you catch someone in the act. Say nothing. Some of these you'll spot across the room. One or two you'll spot in yourself. Five in a row wins.

Says "you're still early"	Says "be your own bank"	Asks, "have you read the whitepaper?"	Says "tick tock, next block"	Says "you're lucky you got in early"
Says "fix the money, fix the world"	Says "gradually, then suddenly"	Says "Bitcoin fixes this"	Says "you're not bullish enough"	Says "that's not how Bitcoin works"
Says "do your own research"	Says "HODL" out loud, unironically	FREE Someone says, "I wasn't going to talk about Bitcoin today."	Says "you'll thank me later"	Says "they can't print more of it"
Says "orange pill" like it's a verb	Says "sats are the new cents"	Says "this is bigger than the internet"	Says "you'll wish you'd bought more"	Says "one bitcoin is one bitcoin"
Says "the math doesn't lie"	Says "you get the price you deserve"	Says "you'll get it eventually"	Says "wen moon"	Says "one more thing about Bitcoin..."

Five in a row. Then go home, before someone asks what a UTXO is.
